Tracy King is a poet and mixed media visual artist. She has a Bachelor's degree in Literature and Writing, and a Master's degree in Communication. Tracy has taught communication at area liberal arts colleges and presently manages accreditation for medical fellowships in subspecialties of neurology. She recently placed second in the Brainstorm poetry contest, where another poem was also listed as an honorable mention. Both poems will be published in Open Minds Quarterly this year. More importantly she is the mum of four brilliant and creative children who are a constant source of inspiration. She has read her work at Banfill Locke Center for the Arts and Amazon/True Colors Bookstore.

Sherrie Fernandez-Williams is a recipient of a SASE/Jerome Award, a winner of the Loft Mentor Series in Creative Nonfiction, a winner of the Givens Black Writers Collaborative, and a winner of the Playwright's Center's Jones Commission Award. She completed her MFA in writing at Hamline University in 2005. Excerpts of her memoir have been published in 13th Moon, r-c-v-r-y, Summit Avenue Review, Subtle Tea, Segue, and Branches. Sherrie resides in St. Paul with her nine-year old twins, Kinsey and Kirby, and teaches courses in Vocational Discovery at Hamline University.
